Gurwin Jewish ~ Fay J. Lindner Resident Celebrates 101st Birthday!

Commack, NY— Betty Schneider lived through two world wars, the Great Depression and many other defining moments in history. Born a twin in 1911, she never dreamed she'd be celebrating her 101st birthday, but that's just what she, her family and many friends did recently at the Gurwin Jewish ~ Fay J. Lindner Residences in Commack.

Longevity must run in the Schneider family. Betty's twin, Min, also celebrated her 101st birthday, in Maryland.

Betty was married to her husband, Al, for more than 65 years, and they had two children, Sharon and Richard. She and her sister raised their families together in a two-family home in Brooklyn, and Sharon says the families were so close, she considers her cousins like siblings.

Besides her job as a legal secretary, Betty was also an avid volunteer assisting seniors at Scheuer House, and also had a passion for Cerebral Palsy causes. "I helped wherever I was needed," she recalls.

In addition to her two children, Betty has four grandchildren and four great grandchildren. She resides at the Gurwin Jewish ~ Fay J. Lindner Residences assisted living community.
