THIS MAY ...

We’re happy to be getting back to seeing our friends here at Lindner more often, not just in the doorways. We have scheduled in-person programs every day and will be using different activity spaces throughout the building and outside once again. Please be aware that the programs must be socially distanced and can have limited guests. We will be taking the bus back out on trips soon. The trips will be sign-up style, due to the reduced amount of residents whom can go out at once. Trips are limited to 2 per resident per month, unless the trip isn’t full. In addition we reduced the number of virtual programs while not eliminating them. What we learned during the Pandemic is that when we host virtual programs we get a lot of participation and we love that! Although I want to emphasize something: when it is your wing-day please make and effort to come downstairs, see people and participate.

May is for Mothers, and with that, I want to share another one of Sue H.’s poems that she has bestowed upon us this month.

Sincerely, Your Friends at Gurwin

Mother’s Day by Sue H.

Mothers of all shapes & sizes,
Are treated today with many surprises,
Daughters & sons will treat their Mums with loads of great respect,
With loads of love carrying no neglects.
Hugs & kisses are the order of the day,
And “I LOVE YOU” are three words everyone will happily say,
Those are words that no ill wind will ever blow away,
After all, if it weren’t for Mums to give birth,
None of us would be on this wonderful earth,
This also applies to 4-legged creatures, too
As they assure their love for you with sounds of grunts, barks & moos,
If difficulty apply between Mother & child,
It must be solved, or both Mum & Dad will go wild,
After all, Dads made major contributions to this day,
So - let’s give our Mothers loads of love & many a kiss,
And make this day one of love & tons of bliss,
Happy Mother’s Day with loads of connections,
Let’s make it one with super affections.

APRIL FOOLS’ DAY SHENANIGANS

This past April 1st, we played a few pranks. We offered the residents brown-E’s under the guise of a tray of brownies, packets of Kosher for Passover “donut” seeds and free tickets for nothing. It was quite a gas!

MICHAEL’S GOOD-BYE
APRIL 7TH
Thank you to all the residents who participated in making the good-bye video for Michael. All of the 30 second clips came together to make a beautiful and meaningful farewell montage. We decorated the Synagogue in blue for our “Blue with out you” theme and residents stopped in to share their encouraging wishes. Thank you to all who stopped by and thank you for your patience while we maintained social distancing for safety.
